

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system for dissipating static electric charge from electronics on a circuit board as the board is inserted into the enclosure, the system comprising one or more elastic, deformable and electrically conductive
5 gaskets mounted within the enclosure for engaging ground pins on the circuit board.